

Terms and Conditions of membership

1. All members must meet the Association's entry standards for the relevant membership category.
2. Members must ensure all information and supporting documentation provided on joining and renewing their membership is true and accurate.
3. Members agree to abide by the values, principals and standards set out in the Association's current Code of Professional Conduct.
4. Relevant members must meet the mandatory regulations for the profession, including participating in PD-asa or a recognised CPD program.
5. Members must ensure they do not have any conditions that may affect on their ability to practise as a sonographer.
6. Members must declare if they have been refused registration as a health practitioner in a foreign country.
7. Members must declare if they have been refused Professional Indemnity and Legal Benefits insurance.
8. Members must declare if they have been charged with or convicted of any criminal offence that would render them unsuitable to practise as a sonographer.
9. Members rights to membership may be forfeited if they fail to make all relevant disclosures.
10. Membership terminates, and all benefits relating to membership cease, if they are deemed under the Association's Constitution to be unfinancial.
11. The Board of the Association has the absolute right in accordance with the Constitution to refuse to admit someone as a member and that it is not required to state any reason for any such refusal.
12. Advance written notice of their intention to resign must be submitted and that such notice will become effective only if all outstanding membership fees and any other monies are paid as at the date of resignation.
13. Members acknowledge that they have read the Association's Privacy Collection Statement and I consent to the information about me contained in this form being collected by the Australian Sonographers Association for the purposes of processing my membership application and agree to the use and disclosure of personal information provided by me for the purposes of furthering the interests of the sonography profession and the objects of Australian Sonographers Association.
